

UNIVERSITY OF MAURITIUS

VACANCY

SSR CHAIR OF AFRICAN STUDIES

The economic, historical and cultural links between Mauritius and the African continent form the basic premise for the setting up of a platform to focus on African studies.

The University of Mauritius wishes to take a lead in developing Africa's intellectual resources by promoting African Studies across the continent. In addition to the mainstream issues relating to African studies, there is a common cause for cooperation to address the environmental and climatic change problems, trade – related issues and consolidation of institutions within the African Continent.

Accordingly, the Council of the University of Mauritius invites applications from suitably qualified candidates for the SSR CHAIR OF AFRICAN STUDIES.

The SSR Chair of African Studies will be responsible to promote knowledge creation and dissemination through research and capacity building in areas of pertinence to the African continent.

For more information on the responsibilities of the SSR Chair of African Studies, the profile, conditions of service and application procedures, interested candidates are invited to consult the University of Mauritius website <http://www.uom.ac.mu>

Candidates who have previously applied should submit FRESH applications.

The University is an equal opportunity employer. Disabled persons having the required qualifications are encouraged to apply.

The closing date for submission of applications is Thursday 30 October 2014.

The University reserves the right:

- (i) to call for interview only the most appropriately and best qualified applicants;
- (ii) not to make any appointment as a result of this advertisement.
