

Teamwork for Education and Economic Sustainability AAUN Forum and AGM 27 August 2017

(Working draft V5 at 16 May 2018 – topics and speakers subject to change)

Venue: The University Club of Western Australia
Hackett Entrance 1, Hackett Drive Crawley, Western Australia, 6009

OBJECTIVES AND OUTCOMES

Purpose – knowledge partnerships for policy development:

The international policy framework is taking shape around the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), the China Belt and Road Initiative (BRI), the UN Paris Climate Accords (COP) and national policies. How can Universities best interact in bringing research evidence to fill the knowledge gaps? How can the Australian-African Universities Network contribute? What are the practical steps 2018-20 to focus our working teams and partners in engagement and results? How do we build the next generation of leaders who are capable and conversant with global policy; and able to access the opportunities and the required resources? How do we maximize the opportunities for Australia Africa partnerships?

FOCUS – the priority areas for Universities to engage with research and education:

AAUN invites the advice and experience of all attending from government, academia, agencies and business in shaping our capacity and impact for the future. In our first five years we have established a platform and delivered results. Now we seek to build greater effectiveness and impact, and to attract sustainable resources from national and international agencies. The program below is a concept in which we invite our members and stakeholders to engage and comment.

(i) RESEARCH – The AAUN research base holds significant assets in our established teams and communities of Australian and African researchers, educators and students. These teams focus in the areas of environment, food and nutrition security, public health in non-communicable disease, and related education and economic development.

(i) EDUCATION – In August 2018 AAUN has invited selected African Ministers of Education, presenting a significant opportunity. Please note the incorporation of the Ministers in the program for AAUN on 27 August, flowing in to the ADU Research Forum on 28 August and to the Africa Down Under Conference 29-31 August (see details below).

(ii) POLICY – The UN Sustainable Development Goals, UN Climate Accords, China Belt and Road Approach, Australian and African international policy objectives are all highly relevant to AAUN. They provide a policy framework with mutual benefit to Africa and Australia, shaping research, education and economic development. They should also provide resources to implement partnerships and programs. They are an opportunity to evolve research, teaching and learning in new approaches, degrees and qualifications for the leaders of tomorrow.

(iii) RESEARCH Strategy – We review our progress and results from the 35 seed-funded programs that we have invested in since our launch 6 years ago at DFAT Canberra in 2012; and select the successful ones to build further with new initiatives. We will strengthen our partnerships with our sponsors, especially the Australian Government and agencies (DFAT and ACIAR) and the NRF (South Africa), and seek additional international resources and funding. In keeping with our research and education character, we are establishing 3-year alliances with our knowledge partners, leveraging further partnerships with African and International Networks, and focusing on mutual objectives and outcomes.

(iv) HIGHER EDUCATION – We review and extend our research and mobility programs and interactions with exchanges of experts, the Australia Awards, international needs and opportunities. Some of our members have highlighted the needs for institutional development, graduate employment and more effort towards linked courses and degrees. An important dimension is to include the Alumni from AAUN and Australia-Africa training courses alongside our efforts.

AAUN Forum Structure

Each session has 1-2 opening speakers, 2-3 panelists and expert discussants. Chairs and speakers please keep strictly to times shown. All participants are experts and there is time for discussion. Discussion time for consensus and practical outcomes is a vital part of the workshop.

OUTCOMES

Important to the success of the Forum, we will develop a communique or position paper for policy makers in Australia and Africa, with copy to relevant international governments and agencies. Several research programs are likely to arise from the discussions. We will also engage with media and websites in communicating the outcomes of the meetings.
